Having a Life Filled With Prayer

See to Please

Shift your prayer life from "Please, God" to Please God." Take the comma out of those two words when you pray, and transition your praying from asking God for things to asking God for the pleasure of God's pleasure. --Homiletics

A Powerful Weapon

Satan dreads nothing but prayer. His one concern is to keep the saints from praying. He fears nothing from prayerless studies, prayer-less work, prayerless religion. He laughs at our toil, he mocks our wisdom, but he trembles when we pray. --Samuel Chadwick

A Word From Matthew Henry

Seventeenth-century Bible scholar Matthew Henry had great insight into God's will when he proclaimed, "When God intends great mercies for His people, He first of all sets them a'praying."

Did you ever consider that when you feel the urge to engage in deep meaningful prayer, it might be God's preparation for "great mercies"?

Hard Faith

According to author Stephen King, "What separates the talented individual from the successful one is a lot of hard work."

Similarly, what separates the doubt-filled Christian from the Christian in good spiritual health is hard faith, working and praying diligently - and often - to build one's faith.

Faith and Health

Dr. Herbert Benson of Harvard Medical School made a study of the effect praying can have upon those who pray. He discovered those who pray 10 to 20 minutes daily can lower their blood pressure, heart rate, breathing and metabolic rates. Prayer can work wonders. --Proclaim, Nov. 1, 1998

Prayer Helps

A man was seen praying in a church and was approached by a fairly officious person in clerical garb. Said this person: "May I help you?" The response came clearly, "No thank you. I am being helped!" -- Anonymous

Fellow Redeemed,

I would like to lift up two very important doctrines that are formulated in God's Word: Law and Gospel. C. F. W. Walther, in his book The Proper Distinction Between Law and Gospel, formulates a proper application for these doctrines. His first thesis states, "The doctrinal contents of the entire Holy Scriptures, both of the Old and New Testament, are made up of two doctrines differing fundamentally from each other, viz., the Law and the Gospel." Walther begins his first thesis by stating what Law and Gospel are not.

- It is not the case that the Gospel is divine, and the Law is a merely human doctrine. No, both are contained in the Scriptures.
- It is not the case that only the Gospel is necessary. Without the Law the Gospel is not understood; without the Gospel the Law benefits us nothing.
- It is not the case that the Law is the teaching of the Old Testament while the Gospel is the teaching of the New Testament. Both Law and Gospel are found in both the Old and New Testaments.
- It is not the case that the Law and Gospel differ with regards to their final aim, as though the Gospel aimed at man's salvation, while the Law aimed at man's condemnation. No, both Law and Gospel have their final aim in man's salvation. The Law can only prepare us for the Gospel.
- It is not the case that the Law and Gospel contradict each other, rather the Law and Gospel are in perfect harmony with regards to their mode and function. Law and Gospel work together.

The true points of difference between the Law and Gospel are these:

- Law and Gospel differ as regards the manner of their being revealed to man.
- Law and Gospel differ as regards their contents.
- Law and Gospel differ as regards the promises held out by either doctrine.
- Law and Gospel differ as regards their threatening.
- Law and Gospel differ as regards the function and the effect of either doctrine.
- Law and Gospel differ as regards the persons to whom either of the one or the other doctrine must be preached.

During the month of August we will be tackling much of these distinctions and how Law and Gospel are rightly and wrongly distinguished. The book that we are reading is heavy on the side of the Gospel and compels us to take a balanced approach to mitigating harm when Law and Gospel are not properly distinguished. This task of distinguishing between the two is the most difficult task in the human life. So, we will bear patiently with each other and tread lightly with one another as we allow God to mold us through this endeavor. I am confident that when we finish this study, we will be have a deeper understanding of Law and Gospel, and be equipped to better distinguish between the two.

May the God of all Grace and Mercy move us to a deeper faith during this next month as we continue to carry out our mission of leading people into a living relationship with Jesus Christ. Amen.

Mission Sunday September 9

Special Speaker, Rev. Dale Kaster
Missionary in Prague, Czech Republic

Rev. Dale and Suzanne Kaster serve the Lord as career missionaries through The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod in Prague, Czech Republic. In this role, Dale trains men from the country to serve as pastors of the Lutheran Evangelical Church of the Augsburg Confession in the Czech Republic (ECAVvČR). He will also serve as the pastor of an English language Lutheran Church in Prague, which serves our OIM Eurasia office staff and many English-speaking expats living in Prague. In addition to this, Pastor Kaster will assist in the regional chaplaincy position for those missionaries working in Silesia, Czech Republic. Through the relationships that are formed, Dale and Suzanne seek to share the Good News of Jesus Christ with the people of the Czech Republic.

Dale was born in Stephenville, Newfoundland, Canada. His home congregation is Celebration Lutheran Church, Jacksonville, Florida. He graduated from Concordia College, Bronxville, New York, with a bachelor's degree in Judeo-Christian Heritage. He received his Master of Divinity from Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Missouri. Before becoming a career missionary, Dale served as a pastor at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Point Pleasant, New Jersey (1989-1994); Celebration Lutheran Church, Jacksonville, Florida. (1994-2010); Martin Luther Chapel, Pennsauken, New Jersey (2010-2013). Before serving in Prague, Dale was Theological Educator/Missionary-at-Large in Tamale, Ghana (2014-2018). He also served on short-term mission trips to the Ntshongweni Village in South Africa (2007-2011). Dale's hobbies include cooking, skeet shooting, reading, and Civil War history.

Suzanne was born in LaGrange, Illinois, and her home congregation is also Celebration Lutheran Church, Jacksonville, Florida. She attended Concordia College, River Forest, Illinois. Suzanne's hobbies include cross-stitching, reading, and working on genealogy. Please, pray for Dale and Suzanne as they serve in Prague, Czech Republic.

Please ask God to daily give Dale the strength and knowledge as he mentors men for the ministry and serves the congregation in Prague. Pray that the Holy Spirit leads and guides him as he serves in the chaplaincy. Please also pray for the men who receive Dale's instruction that their hearts and minds are open to what God wants them to learn. Ask God to help each student to grow to become faithful and compassionate under-shepherds serving His flock. In addition, please pray for all people of the Czech Republic who will learn of the Good News of Jesus Christ through the missionary work that is being done in this country.

LUTHERAN BRAILLE WORKERS NEEDS YOU

2018 marks the 75th year of service that Lutheran Braille Workers has provided Bibles to the blind and visually impaired. Tulsa is fortunate to have a site at Our Savior Lutheran church where books of the bible are printed in a variety of languages. CTR has been a part of this ministry for many years and we need fresh faces to replace some of our faithful volunteers who are no longer able to help with this ministry. CTR's scheduled time is from 9:00-12:00 on the second Monday of each month from September through May and we get the summers off! There are a variety of "jobs" that are available, some of which require standing and some of which allow you to be seated. This is a great opportunity to enter the mission field as an individual, as a couple, or with a friend!

Can you spare three hours a month for nine months? That is slightly more than a full day out of 365 for the year! The year kicks off on September 10th. Please prayerfully consider making a commitment to this ministry that truly helps people see the light of Christ Jesus.

Contact Teresa Nightingale at 918-299-3396 or tnightingale@cox.net for questions or to sign up.

ENDOWMENT FUND UPDATE

As of the June 30, 2018 statements, the Morningstar account balance was $615,916 and the brokerage account balance was $11,113 for a total Endowment Fund balance of $627,029. The Dupuis Trust account balance was $234,842.

The Endowment Fund provides a means for us, as Christian stewards, to express in a tangible way, our deep gratitude for God's many gifts and blessings. A gift to the Endowment Fund is a reflection of our faith and Christian love over and above our normal regular support for the ongoing mission and ministry of our church.

The trustees continue to encourage all members to consider charitable gifts to the Endowment Fund as part of their long term financial and estate planning.

Also, consider memorial gifts to the Endowment Fund in memory of a friend or loved one, as well as gifts in honor of friends and loved ones on special occasions such as anniversaries, birthdays and graduations.

The Endowment Fund trustees truly appreciate the gifts the Endowment Fund has received in past years.

We would like to thank outgoing trustee Scott Mabrey for his service and welcome Ed Fager as the newest trustee.

Questions can be directed to any of the trustees: Chairman Brad Young, Janet Jamison, Rob Koch or Ed Fager.

QUILTS

An LWR quilt is special! It brings warmth and shelter to families by becoming a bed, room divider, backpack, and at times even a home.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?? We need help in purchasing the fabric to make the quilt tops. Each quilt costs approximately $25 to make. Donations marked "LWML quilts" can be dropped in the mite box or put in the offering plate. Filler material of new/used blankets as well as flat sheets in twin size or larger are also needed (no other filler fabric can be used). Prayers for our quilt program are needed plus prayers for the recipients of our quilts.

The quilters meet every Tuesday at 10:00 in the fellowship hall. You can cut squares, sew squares, assemble the filler and tops, tie the quilts - anything you are interested in doing! Join us - we would appreciate your help!

The Joke Corner...

A man answered his doorbell and a friend walked in, followed by a very large dog. As they began talking, the dog knocked over a lamp, jumped up on the sofa with his muddy feet and began chewing on one of the pillows. The outraged homeowner, unable to contain himself any longer, burst out, "Don't you think you should train your dog better?"

"My dog!" exclaimed the friend, surprised. "I thought it was your dog."

Be a missionary, near or far.
Tell other people how glad you are
To know Jesus Christ, your Savior dear
Who is to you so very near.

He saved you from the Tempter's power,

A Message from Take H.E.A.R.T.-Oh My Aching Back!

Back pain is one of the most common reasons people go to the doctor. Fortunately, you can take measures to prevent or relieve most back pain episodes. If prevention fails, simple home treatment and proper body mechanics often will heal your back within a few weeks and keep it functional for the long haul. Surgery is rarely needed to treat back pain.

Risk factors

- Age. Back pain is more common as you get older, starting around age 30 or 40.
- Lack of exercise. Weak, unused muscles in your back might lead to back pain.
- Excess weight. Carrying too much weight puts extra stress on your back.
- Diseases. Some types of arthritis and cancer can contribute to back pain.
- Improper lifting. Using your back instead of your legs can lead to back pain.
- Psychological conditions. People prone to depression and anxiety appear to have a greater risk of back pain.
- Smoking. This can keep your body from delivering enough nutrients to the disks in your back.

Prevention

To keep your back healthy and strong:

- Exercise. Regular low-impact aerobic activities — those that don't strain or jolt your back — can increase strength and endurance and allow your muscles to function better. Walking and swimming are good choices.
- Build muscle strength and flexibility. Abdominal and back muscle exercises (core-strengthening exercises) help condition these muscles so that they work together like a natural corset for your back. Flexibility in your hips and upper legs aligns your pelvic bones to improve how your back feels. Your doctor or physical therapist can tell which exercises are right for you.
- Maintain a healthy weight. Being overweight strains back muscles. If you're overweight, trimming down can prevent back pain.
- Use proper body mechanics: Stand smart. If you must stand for long periods, place one foot on a low footstool to take some of the load off your lower back. Alternate feet. Good posture can reduce the stress on back muscles. Sit smart. Choose a seat with good lower back support, armrests and a swivel base. Consider placing a pillow or rolled towel in the small of your back to maintain its normal curve. Keep your knees and hips level. Change your position frequently. Lift smart. Avoid heavy lifting, if possible, but if you must lift something heavy, let your legs do the work. Keep your back straight — no twisting — and bend only at the knees. Hold the load close to your body. Find a lifting partner if the object is heavy or awkward.

Pearls of Wisdom

"A man begins cutting his wisdom teeth the first time he bites off more than he can chew," said Herb Caen. Though his tongue may have been planted firmly in his cheek, right next to said wisdom teeth, we do indeed learn from our mistakes - including the mistake of thinking we can handle more than we can, or that we know more than we do, or that we don't need anyone's help (including God's).

The FEAR of the LORD is the beginning of KNOWLEDGE.

PROVERBS 1:7

As far back as the Old Testament times, people collected "wisdom sayings" into books from which we can still learn. Foundational to the book of Proverbs, attributed to King Solomon, is this first nugget of wisdom: "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge" (1:7).

May we cut the "wisdom teeth" of our lives not by foolishly overestimating ourselves but by following God.

Organist Tales

Around 1989, Zion Lutheran Church in Guthrie celebrated their 100 year anniversary, and invited all former organists to return to join the festivities. All of us, just like the organists at CTR, had been dedicated to making the congregational worship services more meaningful and pleasing to the Lord. However, sometimes things do happen, and at the anniversary dinner, we were asked what the funniest incident we had in our days of playing the organ. My uncle was one of the earliest organists at Zion, and said that during one service some of his music fell on the floor (the organ was at the front of the church). When he leaned over to pick it up, it was farther away than he thought. He stretched some more to reach it, and fell off the bench.

I asked some of the past organists at CTR about their experiences, and here they are. When Sarah Jensen was organist at a church in Memphis, she "hopped up" to sit on the organ bench, not knowing that someone had sprayed the bench and the organ keys with Pledge. She slid right to the end of the bench, and was only saved by a pole at the end of the bench. The keys were slippery, too, and it was hard to hit the right notes without sliding to the next key. She had to get a rubber mat to sit on until the Pledge wore off.

Leon Boggs once subbed at a church where the organ was near the edge of a balcony. Someone turned on a fan, and sheet music sailed down on the congregation sitting below. It was a scramble to get the music he was playing reorganized quickly.

Norma Muller was asked to play for the wedding of the daughter of the president of St. John's college, so she was especially eager to have everything go smoothly. The pastor of the church where the wedding was held asked Norma to play pre-service music until he, the groom and groomsmen came out in front of the altar. Only then should she begin the processional. Norma played and played and played some more, until finally (about 10 minutes late), the pastor and groom, etc, appeared. The pastor had forgotten his instructions to Norma, and he and the wedding party were waiting until she finished the pre-service music and began the processional to come out. All was well after that, though.

My tale was at a church in St. Louis, at a sunrise service on Easter morning. I left the house in plenty of time, but on the way my car stopped and I couldn't get it restarted. So, dressed in my Easter finery, I gathered my music, organ shoes, and purse and began the 1 1/2 mile walk to the church. This was on an access road to I-270, so I thought surely someone would come by to give me a ride, or that someone would call my home, and then come to get me (this was before cell phones). However, no one drove by, and when they called home, Marty said that I had already left (no one asked how long ago). I arrived at the church 10 minutes after the service was to have begun, and the church was full of people just sitting there, quietly waiting for me. I just knew they all thought I overslept. As soon as I caught my breath, we began the service.

Unfortunately, I was unable to reach Dodee Brockhoff to hear some of her stories. I know all of us have been blessed to be able to serve the Lord through music in the worship service. To God be the glory!

What Spills Out?

Rev. Henry Wingblade once compared the Christian personality to the unseen soup in a bowl carried high over a waiter's head. No one knows what's inside - unless the waiter is bumped or trips. If Jesus is truly living inside us, Wingblade said, what spills out should be the fruit of the Spirit: love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control.

When you falter, what do people see? How can your "spillage" better reflect the Holy Spirit, who lives in you?

"To handle yourself, use your head; to handle others, use your heart."
 --Eleanor Roosevelt

Thank You! CTR hosted a youth mission team in July. The following is a thank you sent to the church:

Thank you for opening your church facilities to our mission team. Your kindness has been a blessing to our team and has helped us fulfill our mission. May God bless you as you continue to witness through your kindness and generosity.

Lord, thank you for touching my heart. Make me sensitive to see those in my life who need your touch. Use me to reach them for you. Amen

Dear God, thank you for the living stream that flows in me straight from your throne. Lord, cause my life to bless others because they see you in me. Amen.

Vicarage News

To friends dearly loved by the Brakhages and by our Lord Jesus Christ:

It feels so good to be back in Oklahoma! I am writing this update from my office at Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in Edmond. It is a beautiful church filled with warm, welcoming children of God. I cannot wait to share our family's adventures with you as we spend the upcoming school year back in the state I call home. I also hope that being back in Oklahoma means we get the chance to see a few members of our dear CTR family throughout the year. If you're ever in the Oklahoma City area on Sunday morning or Wednesday evening, please join us for worship. And shoot me a text or email if you feel like stopping by at some other point during the week. You are always welcome.

Since we wrote to you last, we have found a place to live. We are renting a house just 3 blocks north of the church. That should make it easy for me to get back and forth between all the activities at church and the excitement at home with Suzy and Graham. We got a taste of the character of our new congregation when we pulled up to our new home in our Uhaul. There were 25 members of the congregation waiting there for us. They helped unload our truck and assemble furniture. Our house went from completely empty to totally livable in just over an hour. It was an amazing welcome. The current vicar at Holy Trinity even brought supper: BBQ from Billy Sims. The entire evening was a true taste of Oklahoma hospitality.

Suzy and Graham have taken the lead in making our house a home. Books are on shelves and there is art on the walls. And we've already been able to invite people over for dinner, so we consider ourselves "settled in." Suzy is still weighing options for work next year, and we are looking at child care options for Graham. Last year, we had a virtually perfect setup where Suzy stayed home with Graham while I was in class, and I was able to be with him while Suzy worked in the evenings. Things won't be quite so tidy this year, so please pray that we would find the best possible situation that assures Graham is cared for when his parents are both working.

It is funny how similar being in Edmond feels to living in Tulsa. Even the house we are renting feels vaguely familiar, similar to the home we owned in Tulsa. So far at church, my vicarage duties mirror some of the ways I was honored to serve at CTR. For example, for VBS I was assigned to lead the daily Bible stories for the ECC children (something I had the chance to do in Tulsa for 5 years.) My first official assignment was to contribute to a daily devotional booklet published by the congregation, very similar to the Advent devotion we compiled each year at CTR. This morning, I received the roster for my 7th grade confirmation class. It's crazy that the 7th graders I had in confirmation at CTR are on the doorstep of graduation!!

What is abundantly clear is that the opportunities I was given to serve while at CTR were preparing me for this vicarage experience and ultimately for the work of pastoral ministry. For that, I can only say thank you. Thank you for believing in and investing in me, even before any of us knew that this Seminary adventure would be a reality. Thank you for your trust and constant support.

It's cool to think that the next future pastor from CTR might already be in your congregation. Maybe he's teaching Bible class or leading a vital ministry. Maybe he's a little younger, still sitting in Sunday school or confirmation class. Or maybe he's just faithfully in the pews on Sunday morning, waiting for someone to invite him to serve. I wouldn't have had the experiences at CTR that prepared me for vicarage if someone hadn't invited me. So invite, invite, invite. Offer people places to get involved. And keep inviting them, offering them other opportunities until they find the right fit for them. And to those who are already serving, encourage them; let them know you stand behind them and support them with your words, publicly and privately. Who knows how you will impact their life, and potentially the lives of the people they touch down the road.

As for my vicarage year, there are myriad responsibilities on the horizon. I will be teaching 6th grade religion class each morning at the church's grade school and leading a men's Bible study at a downtown diner each Tuesday morning. I will be in the rotation to preach and lead worship, and potentially lead Sunday morning adult Bible classes. I will have the opportunity to present afternoon worship services at a nearby Lutheran retirement community. And I was asked last night whether I could play keyboards for our weekly contemporary worship service. I also hope to get the chance to assist with funerals, weddings, evangelism and small group ministry. If one thing is certain, it is that the upcoming year will be a full one.

Something unique about my vicarage situation in Edmond is that the "old" vicar is still here and will be for several weeks. In most cases, one vicar leaves before the next vicar arrives. But here, they intentionally overlap the two vicars. The departing vicar trains the incoming vicar, showing him the ropes and passing the baton. I am being trained by Vicar Alex Lahue, a St. Louis native who is excited about heading back home soon. Vicar Alex and his wife Erin have one son, Jax, who was Graham's age when their family arrived last summer. Vicar Alex is a beloved member of the church family here, and I know everyone will be sad to see their family go. He has been an invaluable part of my first few days at Holy Trinity, eager to share his time and answer all my questions (and I used to ask questions for a living, so that's no easy task!) The way the congregation has embraced Alex, Erin and Jax makes me hopeful that Suzy, Graham and I will have the same positive experience during our 13 months in Edmond.

I cannot wait to hear from you – whether via Facebook, text, email or otherwise – about all that is happening in Tulsa. We keep you in our hearts and prayers. Hope to see you soon!

With anticipation,

OOPS! (taken from The Village Voice by: Ken Eggers)

One Friday my next door neighbor called and asked me if I would help him with a special project on Saturday. I said sure, what do you have in mind? He said he had read an article in the Orange County, California, newspaper that a city in the southern part of the County had purchased land for a new school. The purchased land was an orange grove. They were offering, free-of-charge, the trees to be cut down for firewood. The article included detailed instructions how to get to the grove from the Santa Ana Freeway.

My neighbor had rented a chain saw and since he had a pick up truck, he was ready to go. He realized though that a lot of others would also be interested in free firewood. So, with me and my ax to cut off the limbs, we could operate faster to get as much firewood as the truck would hold. Sounds like a good plan.

Early the next morning we followed the directions given in the paper and found the grove with no problem. There were already 4 or 5 other 2-man teams busy cutting down trees near the street. we went to the back of the grove to have access to more trees.

We were operating smoothly as a team when we were rudely interrupted by 3 sheriffs each in a car with flashing lights and screaming sirens. One had a bull horn yelling "stop cutting, you are in the wrong grove". Unfortunately, by that time, all trees had been cut down. The sheriffs realizing they arrived too late, allowed all of us to finish the job of getting firewood. They said the actual grove to be cut down was 3 or 4 miles further south on the same street. We showed them the instructions given in the paper. We all realized then that the paper assumed all wood cutters would approach the grove from the south. We approached it from the north. Both groves were on the east side of the same street. We felt badly about the mistake.

Sunday's paper had huge headlines about the wrong orange grove being cut down and that the owner was real upset since he was expecting a bumper crop of oranges because the rain came at the right time that year. Now, we really felt bad.

A few days later, another article appeared in the paper stating that the grove owner found out his insurance would pay for the lost bumper crop. Then he really got a nice surprise. Due to all the publicity, a housing developer made him an "offer he couldn't refuse" for the land. Now, we felt much better.

"All's well that ends well." I 'll think long and hard before cutting down any more trees.
